IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Spring Entertainment Inaugurated by Roosevelts.

NEVIN AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Composer of Indian Opera Delivers Illustrated Lecture on Subject—Visiting Belgian Officers Entertained at Belgian Legation—Personnel of Diplomatic Party to Jamestown.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt inaugurated their season of spring entertaining last night by inviting 200 or 300 people to hear an illustrated lecture by Mr. Arthur Nevins. The young composer has written an Indian opera—an entirely new theme, and purely American, of course, and the rendition was not only interesting, but most artistic and beautiful. The lecture Mr. Nevins interspersed with musical selections from the opera.

The entertainment was held in the East Room, the guests passing into it from the Green Room, where Mrs. Roosevelt welcomed them.

After the musical lecture, refreshments were served in the Red Corridor.

Baron Moncheur, the Belgian Minister, entertained a company at dinner last night to meet his house guests, Col. Lefebvre and Commandant Michel, Belgian officers, who have come over to this country to represent their government at the opening of the Jamestown Exposition. As the baron is in mourning for his eldest daughter, the dinner was of an informal character. The guests were some of the prominent officers of the army and navy. In the company was also Mrs. Wilson, wife of the American Minister to Brussels. Baron Moncheur also was host at an informal breakfast for his guests yesterday.

He and his guests will leave to-morrow afternoon with the members of the diplomatic party who are going down for the opening of the exposition.

Mrs. Stanley Matthews was hostess at a delightful luncheon yesterday complimentary to Mrs. Berdan, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Joseph Hobson, having just come from Rome, which she has made her home since the death of Gen. Berdan several years ago.

Mrs. Peyton Knapp was another luncheon hostess yesterday, who entertained at her home in I street, complimentary to Mrs. Nicholas Luquer, of Rhode Island avenue.

Mrs. Howry, wife of Judge Howry, was hostess at a bridge party yesterday afternoon, complimentary to Mrs. Montgomery, of Spartanburg, S. C.

Mrs. Perry Belmont was another bridge hostess yesterday, entertaining a large party of ladies at her home in Scott circle.

Mrs. Hemphill Bell, wife of Dr. Bell, of the navy, was another hostess who entertained a party of ladies at bridge.

The arrangements for the diplomatic party which is to be transported from here on the Newport News to-morrow to the opening of the Jamestown Exposition are now quite complete. The State Department yesterday gave out the list of the members of the diplomatic corps who will attend and the guests who have been invited to go with them. The party will include the Italian Ambassador, Baron Mayor des Planches, and the counselor of his embassy, with the naval attaché, Lieut. Pfister; also the Austrian Ambassador, Baron Hengelmüller, and Baron Ambroz, counselor of the Austrian Embassy; the French Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand, Capt. Fournier, military attaché, Commander de Blampère, naval attaché, and Mme. de Blampère, the Viscount de Chambrun, of the French Embassy; the German chargé d'affaires, Count von Hatzfeldt; Capt. Hebbinghaus, naval attaché, and Mme. Hebbinghaus, and Maj. Kormer, military attaché, and Mme. Kormer, the Brazilian Ambassador and Mme. Nabuco, the counselor of the embassy and Mme. Gurgel do Amaral, the military attaché, Lieut. Col. Pederneras, and Mme. Pederneras, the naval attaché and Mme. de Aquino, of the Brazilian Embassy; the Russian Ambassador and Baroness Rosen, M. Kroupensky, counselor of embassy; Col. Ruspoff, military attaché, and Commander Nebolsine, naval attaché, and Mme. Nebolsine, the Russian Embassy; the Japanese Ambassador and Viscountess Aoki, the counselor of embassy, Mr. Miyaka, and Mme. Miyaka; Maj. Tanaka, military attaché, and Mme. Tanaka; the Mexican Ambassador and Mme. Creel, with Acting First Secretary and Mme. Codoy and Miss Codoy; the military attaché, Senor Davila, of the Mexican Embassy; the British Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce, Mr. Howard, counselor of embassy, and Lady Howard; Capt. Ryan, naval attaché, and Mrs. Ryan; Lieut. Col. James, military attaché, of the British Embassy; the Danish Minister, Mr. Brun; the Haitian Minister, Mr. Leger, and Mme. Leger; the Costa Rican Minister and Mme. Caiva, the Nicaraguan Minister and Mme. Corea, the Belgian Minister, and Mme. Moncheur; the Siamese Minister, the Chilean Minister, Senor Yocaham; the Cuban Minister, Senor Quesada, the Chinese Minister, Sir Chentung Liang-Cheng; the Netherlands Minister and Mme. van Swinderen, the Bolivian Minister and Mme. Calderon, the Panaman Minister and Mme. Obaldia, the Persian Minister, Gen. Morteza Khan; the Swiss Minister, Mr. Vogel; the Argentine Minister and Mme. Portella, the Peruvian Minister and Senora Lafaur, the Spanish Minister, Senor Pine; the Guatemalan Minister and Senora Herrarte, the Swedish Minister, Mr. de Lagercrantz; the Turkish Minister, Cheikh Bey; the charge of the Dominican Republic, Senor Fiallo, and the Venezuelan charge, Senor Guzman, with the ranking secretaries of their legations.

The guests invited to go with them are the Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Cortelyou, the Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Garfield, the Secretary of Commerce and Labor and Mrs. Strauss, Third Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Wilson, First Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Edwards, Second Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Winthrop, Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. Oliver, Miss Oliver, and Miss Marion Oliver, Mr. John Barrett, of the Bureau of American Republics; Mr. Yanes, of the same bureau, and Mrs. Yanes, the Supervising Architect and Mrs. James Knox Taylor, Gen. and Mrs. J. Franklin, Capt. Frank McCoy, and Col. Alfaro, son of the President of Ecuador. The party will leave to-morrow evening, reaching Norfolk the next morning, and they will return Saturday. A caterer will accompany them, and everything for their pleasure and comfort has been arranged.

Mrs. Marian Longfellow O'Donoghue, who is at the Dewey, will be glad to see her friends, informally, on Friday, April 26, from 8 to 10 p. m.

The Washington Vingt-Cinqs held their monthly public meeting at the residence of Mrs. G. L. Fetter Saturday evening. Miss Ethel Fetter, Dr. M. M. Dolmage, Miss Emerson, Mr. George Kehoe, and Miss Fannie Isham entertained the company with their artistic selections.

The Countess von Moltke Hulfeldt, daughter of Mme. Bonaparte, arrived Monday in the home of her mother for her annual visit. Mrs. Edgar Newbold, of New York, has been the guest of Mme. Bonaparte for some time.

Miss Audrey Sackett, of New York, is the guest of Mrs. Thomas T. Gaff, and will remain until after the wedding of Miss Gaff and Dr. Cary Langhorne, April 30.

Miss Mabel Boardman, daughter of W. J. Boardman, will sail May 23 for Europe to attend the coming convention, from June 10 to 20, of the Red Cross Society. She will spend some time in Paris, and will later be the guest of Mrs. Whitehead, wife of the American Ambassador to England.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Cowles and the Hon. Maud Pauncefoot, who is now the guest of Miss Mabel Boardman, will leave Baltimore, N. C., to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Richard Townsend and her daughter, Miss Mathilde Townsend, will sail for New York May 15 for England. They will spend the summer in London, and then take automobile tours on the continent during the remainder of the summer. It is quite possible that they will remain abroad during next winter.

The Minister to Panama, who is on the eve of retiring from this post, will not meet his successor in New York to-morrow. The consul general from Panama will meet him, and escort him to Washington, where the retiring minister will present him to the President.

Mrs. A. E. Lacey, formerly Miss Grace E. Peckham, is visiting Mrs. G. L. Peckham at 2419 Eleventh street northwest.

ROOT INTERESTED IN G. W. U.
Secretary Appreciates Department Which Fits Men for Consuls.

Representatives of Latin-American governments will be present next Tuesday evening at a meeting to be addressed by Dr. Ernest G. Lorenzen, professor of law in George Washington University, which is to be held in University Hall at Fifteenth and H streets. Dr. Lorenzen will discuss "The American Lawyer and Spanish-American Law," and Hon. John Barrett, director of the Bureau of American Republics, will make an introductory address.

In a letter made public by the university authorities yesterday, Secretary Root gave his indorsement to the movement undertaken by the university to establish itself as the typical American institution of learning, and spoke in special praise of the university's law department. The letter reads in part:

"The national government is making a strong and systematic effort now to limit appointments in the diplomatic and consular service to men of special fitness for such work. Of course, that effort will be greatly aided by having many young men as possible educated and trained in the subjects with which such officers have to deal. The greater the class of trained men from whom we can draw for appointments in the foreign service, the more easily we can maintain a high standard in this service."

"I am, accordingly, much interested in the success of that department of the George Washington University, and for this reason, as well as for a general interest in the cause of education, which I am sure the university will promote, you have my very best wishes."

ANTIQUES PLACED ON SALE.
Collection of the Old Colony Company to Go at Auction.

Lovers of antique and colonial furniture, china, and knickknacks will have the opportunity to go to everything from a $1,000 marble-topped ornate table to a colonial silver snuffer, when the sale by public auction of the collection of the Old Colony Company opens at Sloan's auction rooms, 1407 G street. The entire stock of the Old Colony Company has been placed on exhibition, and will be auctioned off to the highest bidder to-day, to-morrow, and Friday of this week, and Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week.

The Old Colony Company has been collecting rare and beautiful pieces of furniture, china, and, for ten years, and the collection includes pieces secured in all parts of Europe and the Orient. There is mahogany furniture for every room in the house, some of the pieces and sets being unusually rare and valuable. Chippendale desks and chairs, Sevres china, old English mahogany highboys and wardrobes, Louis XV chairs and tables are all represented in the collection.

The sale will be on view each morning from 10 o'clock to the commencement of the sale, 11 o'clock, and after the close of the 3 o'clock sale. The Old Colony Company is about to close up its business for the summer months, which is given as the reason for this special sale of its collection.

Examination at the Drillery.
A civil service examination in which more than fifty students, who are preparing for the governmental examination at the Census office, participated, was held at the Drillery Saturday last. These examinations cover every detail of the regular civil service examination and are offered for the benefit of those students who desire to test their skill before entering the real competition.

Lectures on Automobiles.
Modern types of automobiles and recent developments in their manufacture was the subject of an address by R. A. Klock, at an informal meeting of the Washington Society of Engineers, at 729 Fifteenth street, last night. Following the address, the society visited the Dupont garage in one of the large sight-seeing automobiles, and inspected the various makes of automobiles.

REPORTS DOMINICAN TREATY.

Committee Having Matter in Charge Recommends Favorable Action.

Minister Dawson, in Santo Domingo yesterday, advised the State Department that the Dominican treaty had been reported to the congress by the committee having it in charge. The committee consisted of three members, two of whom recommended favorable action while the other opposed the negotiations. The dissenting member has been given several days time in which to file minority views upon the treaty.

Several other members of the congress have asked that some explanation be made of certain provisions of the treaty, which its supporters have consented to give. Indications are favorable to the final ratification of the treaty.

MADE MILLIONS IN MINES.

F. Augustus Heinze.

F. Augustus Heinze, the well-known authority on mining engineering, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., on December 5, 1849, and graduated from the Columbia School of Mines in 1870. He went to Montana when the mining fever was at its height in that State. He soon came to the top as a mining expert, and has made a fortune and a splendid reputation as a mine developer of unusual talent. He has been very active as a Democrat in Montana politics. He is a member of a number of clubs in New York, Montreal, and Helena, Mont. Mr. Heinze is a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

Funeral of Miss Kimball.
The funeral of Miss Bertha Louise Kimball, daughter of Judge Ivory G. Kimball, will take place this afternoon from the residence, 620 North Carolina avenue southeast. Services will be conducted by Rev. George Bailey at 3 o'clock, and interment will be private.

Miss Kimball died Monday night from an attack of pneumonia, from which she had long been a sufferer. Her father did not sit on the bench of the District branch of the Police Court yesterday, Justice of the Peace Lewis I. O'Neal taking his place.

Returns to Unveil Memorial.
Ensign David Worth Bagley, U. S. N., arrived here from the Asiatic station, and will proceed to his home in North Carolina to take part in the unveiling of the monument to his brother, Ensign Worth Bagley, the only naval officer killed in the Spanish-American war. The monument has been erected at Raleigh, and will be unveiled May 20. Many naval officers, friends of the young officer who lost his life at Matanzas, will attend the ceremony.

Organ Recital at St. Paul's.
An organ recital will be given Thursday, April 25, at 8 o'clock p. m., in St. Paul's Church, Twenty-third street, by Edgar Priest, for the benefit of the choir boys camp fund. There will be no charge for admission, but a collection will be taken for the fund. By Mr. Priest this season.

Entertained the Brotherhood.

The Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church, Rev. Dr. Winbiger, pastor, had an enjoyable entertainment last night, which was largely attended, considering the rainstorm. A photograph concert by J. E. Whitson, and picture drawings by Jack Smith, cartoonist of The Washington Herald, interspersed with a talk on the art, completed the evening's entertainment. The Brotherhood is a most popular and successful adjunct of the First Church.
